Alfresco living

When thoughts turn to Italy, romantic notions of farmhouse dwellings, vineyards and delicious food are never far away... and this is perfectly captured in Masseria Trapanà, a renovated 16th-century country estate in Puglia. The boutique hotel comprises just 10 rooms (nine of them suites), most with outdoor bathtubs, nestled among 60 hectares of olive groves and gardens – which also supply the ingredients for local dishes and cooking lessons. From €250 per night for a Garden Suite; trapana.com

Give it your best shot

Pull! Eagle-eyed clay-pigeon shooters take note: The Royal Berkshire Shooting School is running The Sunseeker Boodles Cup, with the chance to win a Sunseeker seven-day yacht charter in the Côte d'Azur for eight guests or a piece of Boodles jewellery, each worth around £80,000. Entry costs £50 and qualification is open until 28th January 2017. For full details, visit rbss.co.uk

Palatial RETREAT

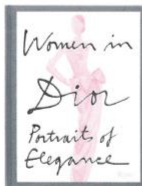

Bordering the moat of the Imperial Palace gardens, Palace Hotel Tokyo is a dreamlike setting for catching Japan's cherry blossom in spring or finding a sanctuary of calm amid the rush of the city. With 10 restaurants and bars encompassing tempura, teppan-yaki, bento boxes and sushi, you can also satisfy every Japanese culinary craving. en.palacehoteltokyo.com
